RE: Prolyte website

Dear Prolyte customer,

Prolyte is pleased to announce the launch a completely refreshed website.
The new website will go online Wednesday June 24th 2009.

To be able to make full use of the new website and its extra options, it is essential that you log in.

The website is available in the English version only, after a test and trial period the full website will become available in more languages.

Furthermore we would like to ask your help by sending us your comments and feedback. Any feedback is welcome to help us improve this website and make it work for you.
Please mail to yvriesen@prolyte.com or mprak@prolyte.com.

With the launch of the new website, the www.stagedex.com site is integrated in the www.prolyte.com site.

If you have any further questions or requests regarding the Prolyte website, please feel free to contact me.

Trusting to have informed you sufficiently,

Kind Regards,

Prolyte Products Group
